

Names of correspondence RE: SIM

Phone:

Valerie LeVeck [REDACTED], she is on social security disability and opposes parts of SIM that will prevent providers from getting paid for certain services.

Katherine White of Mansfield Center, she brought up issues to Bettye Jo of transparency through the current draft.

Jim Owens, from Hartford Healthcare Coordinated care, works with Connecticut Valley Hospital. He shows concern for those at CVH as well as those who are trying to re-enter the community – he believes that under SIM it will be harder for them to access mental health care.

Barbara Potuseka of Southbury, she is the mother of a child with a traumatic brain injury and believes that some parts of SIM would lack attention to individuals with these types of conditions.

- The last two people did not wish to provide me with a telephone number. I informed each of them that their comments would be forwarded on, but for accuracy purposes it would be in their best interest to submit their comments via email to sim@ct.gov
